Job Links views pandemic as an opportunity

Use any cliché you want. ('When given lemons, make lemonade'. 'Look for the light at the end of the tunnel' 'Find the silver lining'...) at the end of the day, when you are in the business of searching for a job, you need to have a positive outlook!

March 13, 2020 was the date that made Job Links change our outlook. As professionals in the field of employment, we know that adaptability, flexibility and critical thinking are critical assets in an employment seeker. We pride ourselves on supporting our clients to and through the workforce. COVID times required us to look in the mirror and take our own advice. We needed to be adaptable, flexible and a reliable source of creative and critical thought in order to support our clients in the new landscape.

In the November 13th edition of The Record we reintroduced our 6 member team and reminded readers that Job Links has been serving Anglophones in the region for 25 years. Today we are reintroducing what Job Links does for the English speaking community throughout much of the Eastern Townships. To borrow another cliché, 'This ain't your Daddy's Job Links'

The path between the inception of Job Links over 25 years ago to today has been up, down, left, right and the world has changed exponentially. We now live in a world where technology and rapid change are the norm. If finding and keeping a job in this new reality seems daunting to you...we can help.

To ensure that you can take advantage of our support no matter where you live in the area, we regularly meet our clients in the towns where they reside. We arrange phone calls, workshops, video conferences and in-person interviews to support you on your quest to find the perfect job. We work hard to make Joblinks a very safe, no judgement environment where our only goal is to serve you as you develop your individual path.

The services we can offer range from simply having your cv reviewed and edited all the way to supporting you in your search and discovery of employment. It also extends to finding you more meaningful employment, even if you are currently employed. We understand that even while you need to work, you can still improve and adapt your situation. This is precisely the lesson we at Job Links have taken from the Covid-19 pandemic. We cannot remain stagnant. We are always looking to connect with people, improve our own skills and our service offerings. The pandemic has forced us to become creative with the means by which we do this.

The team at Job Links, like everyone, looks forward to the end of the pandemic and like everyone we've been changed by it. We'll keep the lessons we've learned alive and strong as we continue to work toward perfecting a service that, frankly, needed some perfecting. We've caught up to 2020 and will hit the ground running in 2021 to serve the English speaking community of the Eastern Townships. While we continue to all do our best in a Red zone of a pandemic we didn't ask for and have never seen in our lifetimes, we think it has sharpened our focus.

If you are an Anglophone over the age of 18 and have ANY questions, regarding employability services we want to help you. If the pandemic has you in a different situation or even considering different situations, we are here to serve you. No one is the same because of what we have all had to endure, we would like to think Job Links is better for having to learn to adapt. We invite readers who need help to let Joblinks be their guide. For more information, contact us at 819-566-2422 or joblinks@etsb.qc.ca.

From the Job Links team we wish everyone a safe and happy holiday season.

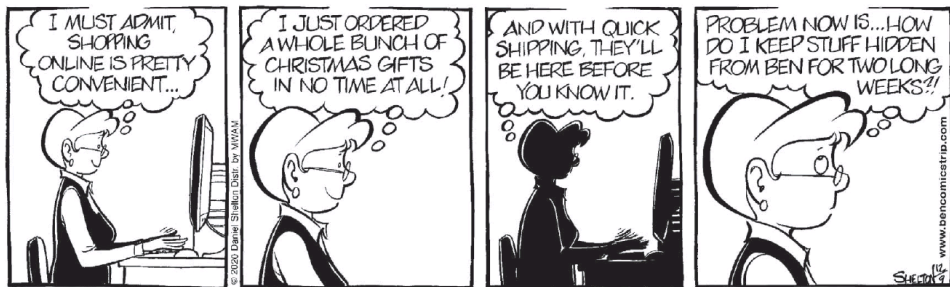

Global Excel is proud to support local organizations that enrich our shared community.

Doing business around the world, proudly established in the Eastern Townships.
