

Hi, my name is Courtney and I am the Secretary at Job Links. Everyone here has survived the last year and are now back from vacation relaxed, rested and ready to help our clients with their employment journey.

We have taken the last two years to re-evaluate, adapt and improve our services to clients. We have been focused on reviewing and improving our tools and techniques to better respond to our current reality. The Covid-19 Pandemic has allowed us to improve accessibility to Job Links; meetings, workshops and tools will continue to be offered both in person and virtually. Our Stanstead office, with all sanitary measures in place, is back up and running and we are there weekly. We look forward to eventual in-person events and when they open up we will be happy to participate and offer our services to those who need it.

I hope that everyone was able to relax, recharge and take the time they needed to reset and start this next phase head on. If you have worked through the summer and your vacation is later, keep going you can do it!
